Apply to be a Marymount University Graduate Student Ambassador!

Are you interested in representing the Marymount Graduate programs?

Are you interested in sharing your experiences and giving tours to prospective graduate students?

Graduate Ambassadors give prospective graduate students a more valuable insight into MU's unique graduate programs and enriching community.

Graduate Student Ambassadors:

- Guide prospective students and guests on tours of the Ballston campus as well as Main Campus
- Correspond with prospective students who request to speak with a current student
- Share information, and personal stories and experiences about your program of study at Marymount
- Serve a two-hour weekly, voluntary commitment for tours and various office duties in the Office of Graduate Admissions
- Participate in Open Houses, Online Chats, and Information Sessions during the semester
- Training and social events with Undergraduate and Graduate Student Ambassadors

Benefits of being a Graduate Student Ambassador:

- Leadership skills – this is a new program so starting as an ambassador now will give you opportunities to lead the program and others by being promoting to a GSA Leader. GSA Leader positions offer additional benefits.
- An enriching way to share your stories with prospective graduate students and be a significant part of the Graduate Admissions process
- Enhance communication and interpersonal skills
- Receive fun Marymount gear including an official Marymount polo shirt!
- Opportunities to network with Graduate Ambassadors, staff, and faculty
- Campus recognition
- Competitive edge on resume
- Provide a service to Marymount and the Community
